Contractor Highlight

HARGREAVES ASSOCIATES & RANDALL STOUT ARCHITECTS, INC.

HARGREAVES ASSOCIATES

Hargreaves Associates and Randall Stout Architects, Inc. are being highlighted in this quarter's newsletter for their design work. The internationally recognized firms were hired by the Trinity River Vision Authority to help develop and design the architectural features of the central city bypass channel along with neighborhood features of Trinity Uptown.

They will be collaborating with the United States Army Corps of Engineers local construction design team as they develop the flood risk management design of the bypass channel. The internationally recognized firms will provide urban planning, landscape design and architecture for the 1.5-mile long urban waterfront with numerous social and recreational amenities.

Founded in 1983, Hargreaves Associates combines the skills of landscape architecture, planning and urban design with related disciplines to create memorable environments. With offices in San Francisco, Cambridge, New York City, and London, Hargreaves Associates' architectural excellence is renowned worldwide.

LONDON 2012 OLYMPIC PARK

Most recently, Hargreaves Associates was part of the design team responsible for design of the Olympic Park in London for the 2012 Summer Olympics.

Incorporated in 1997, Los-Angeles-based Randall Stout Architects, Inc. prides itself on creating unique, inviting and artistic designs that go beyond passive contemporary style. The architectural, planning and urban design firm has worked on several award-winning projects across the globe. In 2012, Stout was honored with a 2012 American Architecture Award for the Art Gallery of Alberta.

"We're honored to be selected for this project and thrilled to play a part bringing the Trinity River Vision to life," said Gavin McMillan, senior principal at Hargreaves Associates. "Our goal is to create designs that connect the environment with culture, and we can't wait to begin work on the bypass channel."

Hargreaves and Stout bring extensive experience as well as past collaboration to the bypass channel project. Their 21st Century Waterfront in Chattanooga is an exemplary project that promotes intensive community use, diverse public programming and synergy between urban waterfront and private development.
